JOBS4U2 explained

Why we need JOBS4U2

Indigenous children in Australia are severely disadvantaged. Many come from families where generational unemployment and welfare dependency is the norm, and so they have no role models to help them step up to a brighter future.

The facts are:

- 43% of Indigenous first year primary school children have either limited motor skills, or poor social and communications skills, or limited basic literacy and numeracy skills (vs. 21% non-Indigenous youth).
- 41.5% of Indigenous children do not achieve Year 12 or its equivalent (vs. 13.5% non-Indigenous youth).
- 60% of Indigenous youth aged 17-24 are not engaged in post school education, training or employment (vs. 25% non-Indigenous youth).

How JOBS4U2 works

JOBS4U2 supports children throughout their crucial developmental years, from six to 25 years old. It provides one on one mentoring to make sure they make the most of education, training, and employment opportunities, plus personal development coaching and all-important life skills and experiences.

Short term:

JOBS4U2 helps Indigenous children step up to a brighter future.

Medium term:

JOBS4U2 graduates become 'Agents of Change' in their own communities, inspiring and leading their families, friends and colleagues to step up to a brighter future too.

Long term:

Empowered by education, training and employment, Indigenous communities will achieve true social and economic equality with all Australians.

JOBS4U2 Gifting Program

Why we need your gift

Because we are an independent organisation, we do not seek government funding. We rely 100% on gifts from individuals, the community, businesses and philanthropic trusts to carry out our work.

How will you spend my gift?

Your gift will help us to continue and expand JOBS4U2 so that we can help many more Indigenous children step up to a brighter future:

- Over 95% of JOBS4U2 participants complete Year 12.
- 94% are engaged in post-school education, training or employment.
- 76% of JOBS4U2 graduates have full time jobs.
- Ganbina's cost per participant is about half the average spend of similar organisations.
- Every $1 invested in JOBS4U2 creates $6.70 in social value.

Who manages JOBS4U2?

JOBS4U2 is a program of Ganbina, a registered charity with offices in Melbourne and Shepparton.

JOBS4U2 was developed for Indigenous children living in the Goulburn Valley, home to one of the largest Indigenous populations in Australia.
